Formal Matters

In December 2006 the examiner contacted Robert Buyan regarding an amendment of claim 42 which at the time he thought would place the application in Condition for Allowance. Subsequently the examiner's search resulted in an earlier disclosure of an anti-shivering agent being used with a heat exchange catheter as presented below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 42, 45-48 and 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dobak, III (6,843,800). Dobak discloses a system comprising:

a heat exchange catheter (Figure 1) insertable into a blood vessel of the patient;

a temperature controller (not shown) in communication with the heat exchange catheter inherently capable of causing the heat exchange catheter to reduce the temperature of at least a patient's kidneys to a temperature at which a substance-induced renal damage is prevented or mitigated (a maximum temperature differential between the blood stream and the and the cooling element of the catheter to approximately 32 deg. C); and an anti-shivering agent (meperidine which is a opioid receptor agonists) and col. 4, lines 12-43, col. 7, lines 12-18, col. 8, line 22-col. 9, line 28, col. 11, line 64-col. 12, line 39 and col. 13, line 63-col. 15, line 10).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 53-69 are allowed.

Claims 43 and 44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
